GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

__________________________ is fully committed to conducting all activities in strict conformance with (Name of Agency) 201 Kentucky Administrative Regulation 26: 130. ______________ will comply with all legal and ethical responsibilities to be non-discriminatory in promotional activities, program content and in the treatment of program participants. The monitoring and assessment of compliance with these standards will be the responsibility of the Continuing Education Committee Chair and the members of the Continuing Education Committee, as well as the Kentucky Board of Examiners of Psychology.

While ______________ goes to great lengths to assure fair treatment for all participants and attempts to anticipate problems, there will be occasional issues which come to the attention of the program staff which require intervention and/or action on behalf of ______________. This procedural description serves as a guideline for handling such grievances.

When a participant, either orally or in written format, files a grievance and expects action on the complaint, the following actions will be taken.

1. If the grievance concerns a speaker, the content presented by the speaker, or the style of presentation, the individual filing the grievance will be asked to put his/her comments in written format. The CE Chair will then pass on the comments to the speaker, assuring the confidentiality of the grieved individual.

2. If the grievance concerns a workshop offering, its content, level of presentation, or the facilities in which the workshop was offered, the convention chair will mediate and will be the final arbitrator. If the participant requests action, the convention chair will:
   a. attempt to move the participant to another workshop or
   b. provide a credit for a subsequent year’s workshop or
   c. provide a partial or full refund of the workshop fee.

Actions 2b and 2c will require a written note, documenting the grievance, for record keeping purposes. The note need not be signed by the grieved individual.
STANDARD C: EDUCATIONAL PLANNING AND INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

PRINCIPLE
Successful continuing education in psychology requires: (1) careful educational planning that results in a clear statement of educational objectives; (2) the selection of appropriate instructional methods to achieve those objectives; and (3) the selection of instructional personnel, that being a “qualified professional” with demonstrated expertise in the program content.

CRITERIA

- Sponsors must develop educational objectives that clearly describe what participants are expected to learn.
- Sponsors must select instructors with expertise in the program content and who are competent to teach this program content at a level that builds upon a completed post-bachelor degree in psychology. Sponsorships should have previously provided at least two learning activities which yielded “satisfactory” ratings as based upon participant-based program evaluations gathered by feedback reports and measures.

1. For your two most recent programs, complete the chart below that lists the activity titles, number of credits awarded, instructional method, learning objectives, and instructor name and degree(s). A full CV must be provided for each instructor. If you are a new applicant and have not yet offered any CE activities, you must provide this information for programs you plan to offer in the future. If one or more of the activities listed is a multi-session program for which credit is earned on a session-by-session basis, you must list individual session names. Do not list the overall conference.

STANDARD D: CURRICULUM CONTENT

PRINCIPLE

The content of continuing education is the crucial component of programs intended to maintain, develop, and increase conceptual as well as applied and operational competencies that are relevant to psychological practice, education, and science. CE programs may include content related to well-established psychological principles, or may be based on content that extends current theory, method, or practice. CE programs may provide information related to best practices (e.g., outcome-based measures), ethical, legal, statutory, or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychology.

CRITERIA

- Sponsors must be prepared to demonstrate that information and programs presented are based on a methodological, theoretical, research, or practice knowledge base. This requirement must be met by at least one of the following:
  - Program content has obtained credibility, as demonstrated by the involvement of the broader psychological practice, education, and science communities in studying or applying the findings, procedures, practices, or theoretical concepts;
  - Program content has been studied according to established procedures of scientific scrutiny that can be reasonably relied upon;
  - Program content has peer reviewed, published support beyond those publications and other types of communications devoted primarily to the promotion of the approach;
  - Program content is related to best practices, ethical, legal, statutory or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychology.
  - Program content should also provide presentation of new, experimental, and/or innovative training and education.

- Sponsors are required to ensure that instructors, during each CE presentation, include statements that describe the accuracy, reliability and utility of the materials presented, the basis of such statements, the limitations of the content being taught, and the severe and the most common risks.

- Sponsors must offer program content that builds upon the foundation of a completed post-bachelor degree in psychology.

- Sponsors must be prepared to demonstrate that content is relevant to psychological practice, education, or science.

- Sponsors must clearly describe any commercial support for the CE program, presentation, or instructor to program participants at the time the CE program begins. Any other relationship that could be reasonably construed as a conflict of interest also must be disclosed.

1. For your two most recent programs (as listed in response to Question C.1 of this application), indicate which aspects of Criterion 1 your programs meet (check all that apply):

   - Program content has obtained credibility, as demonstrated by the involvement of the broader psychological practice, education, and science communities in studying or applying the findings, procedures, practices, or theoretical concepts.

   - Program content has been studied according to established procedures of scientific scrutiny that can be reasonably relied upon.

   - Program content has peer reviewed, published support beyond those publications and other types of communications devoted primarily to the promotion of the approach.

   - Program content is related to ethical, legal, statutory or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychology.
For each item checked, describe how your program meets that criterion. Where applicable, you must also provide citations.

STANDARD F: STANDARDS FOR AWARDING CREDIT

PRINCIPLE

The awarding of CE credit is based on participation in learning activities offered in accordance with the Laws and Regulations outlined in 201 KAR 26:175 [Continuing Education] as well as these Standards described in this document.

CRITERIA

- Sponsors must award CE credit for credential holders on the basis of one credit per one hour of instructional time.
- Sponsors must provide documentation to each participant that includes the Kentucky Board of Examiners of Psychology approval statement, the name and date of the activity, the number of CE credits earned, and a signature or other verification from the sponsoring organization.
- Sponsors must be able to verify the awarding of CE credit to participants and provide this verification to individuals who request it for at least three years after completion of the activity.

1. For all activities offered in the past year, complete the following chart that lists the activity title, program length (in hours), the number of credits awarded, and the number of psychologist and non-psychologist attendees. If you have not offered any programs in the past year, provide this information for your most recent activities. If you are a new applicant and have not yet offered any programs, provide this information for programs you plan to offer in the future. List only those programs that were offered to credential holders for credit.

If you offer any multi-session programs (e.g., conventions, conferences) for which credit is earned on a session-by-session basis, you must list all the individual sessions that were available for credit. Do not list the overall conference.
